Miss Norris Entertains.

Nothing could be more thoroughly enjoyable in the way of midsummer entertainments than a gypsy tea, with a dainty summer menu, served with roasting informality, sandwiched in with jolly good times, and surely no affair of the season promises to be more delightful than the gypsy tea and dance which will be given by Miss Vada Norris, at her home on Highland avenue, Thursday evening.

Miss Norris will be assisted in receiving and entertaining her guests by her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Walter John Norris.

CHICAGO GIRL WITH IRISH NAME MAY SIT ON THRONE OF GREECE

Miss Josephine Marie Kelly and King Alexander of Greece.

According to rumors floating back to this country from Greece, a charming young American girl may soon sit upon the throne at Athens. Greek society is said to be very much excited. The American girl, who hails from Chicago, and whose name is Josephine Marie Kelly, calls the king, "Jack," and spends much of her time with him.

In letters to her uncle in New York, however, Miss Kelly, although admitting that she and the young monarch are great chums, denies that they are engaged.

Her uncle is William Hyland, prominent New York hotel man. He says he has had recent letters from his niece in which she described the king as a very nice and democratic specimen of royalty and said a mutual friendship had sprung up between them because of a similarity of tastes.

Miss Kelly wrote that the king had received her at an audience in the palace, but that they had really enjoyed each other more in less formal ways. She is an expert automobile driver and had frequently taken long drives with the young King Alexander.

On his part, she wrote, when she enjoyed her company because she was a typical American girl who could talk on any subject "from war to the nation of Athens."

Miss Kelly is about 25 years old. She is described as of medium height, with jet black hair and flashing black eyes. Her father was T. C. Kelly, a Chicago politician, now dead. When she was very young both her father and mother died and her bringing up and education devolved upon her uncle, William Hyland. Until she was 16 she lived in a convent in Chicago.

At that age she went abroad, first entering a convent in Dover, England, and later in Liege, Belgium. She studied and lived abroad for five years and learned to speak French and Flemish fluently, and a little Greek. She has lived for the last four years in the United States, in Detroit and Chicago.

ROMANCE ENDS FOR NASHVILLE WOMAN

GREENWICH, Conn., July 10.—Mrs. Annette Sperry Moore, with her two sons and a daughter, has arrived at the Moore estate in Rhode Island to remain pending an action for divorce recently brought by Maj. Charles Arthur Moore of St. Albans, Vt., against her husband. At a hearing held Thursday in the superior court, Bridgeport, an order was reached whereby Mrs. Moore is to remain at the estate that the major may see his children.

Mrs. Moore, who arrived here after noon if the major was to join her in his country estate.

"Oh, no," she replied. "He is living at the house of his sister in Belle Haven, and may see the children only at regular intervals."

Moore is to give his wife $1,000 a month alimony pending the divorce proceedings.

The major's mother is now in Rome visiting her daughter, the duchess of Torlonia. Mrs. Moore went overseas as second lieutenant of the 12th U. S. N. G. of Greenwich, which later became Battery F, 26th artillery. Upon his return he found his wife had taken the children and could not be induced to return to him. He then started divorce proceedings, bringing suit on grounds of intolerable cruelty and desertion.

Maj. Moore was an intimate friend of Col. Roosevelt and accompanied him on one of his trips to the tropics. He also accompanied Lieut. Henry W. Hudson expedition and hunted in the Hudson bay region. Another expedition carried him into Asia among the Redoubts, where, with Homer Davenport, the cartoonist, he bought Arabian horses. He was a member of the Far East.

Mrs. Moore is a former Nashville woman who, as Miss Annette Sperry, was renowned for her charm and beauty. Her father who died several years ago, was a wealthy manufacturer and the family is prominent socially. Maj. Moore is one of the wealthiest young men in New York and at the outbreak of the war donated his private yacht to the government for use as a submarine chaser. It has been generally understood that N. J. Cummings used the limited acquaintance of his family with the Sperry's to invade Moore into some enterprises that netted Moore a loss of several million dollars.
